INTRODUCTIONS

The crypto currencies are digital means of exchange, which are governed by the Distributed Accounting Technology (Blockchain) of public or private APIs, where transactions are recorded, with anonymous nodes that verify the operations, increasing the speed of The shipments, capable of making exchanges in seconds regardless of the location of the recipient, thus avoiding 90% of the cost in transfers. In recent years we have noticed an exponential growth, where every day new ideas and projects are developed, generating great influx of involved in their progress, increasing while adapting to everyday life. The integration of Latin America into cryptography has taken on more momentum, due to the practicality of Internet transactions without intermediaries. Considering this advantage to address the economic difficulties currently in South America. And in the interest of many young professional potential, there is a currency with which incentive to promote economic movements, indispensable for the training of students and/or progress of professional practice, through the use of digital assets, This being a mechanism for obtaining crypto functional currencies to have an independent economic income.

LKRCOIN

Created in 2018 in the community LKR Team, formed mainly by members with technological knowledge and skills, taking as a focus the interest of professional potentialists that encourage the development of economic movements, indispensable for the Personal and professional training of each individual, through the use of digital assets applying cryptographic obtaining mechanisms promoting independent income to members of our community.

Among the technical specifications of the Blockchain of LKRCoin (LKR) can be highlighted iconic characteristics of the operation of the same, such as the time of resolution of a data block, the algorithm of encrypted language used, methods of obtaining Assets, among others.

LKRCoin (LKR) offers a friendly, globally-used interface providing users with a fast platform for carrying out their transactions.

SPECIFICATIONS	 Bitcoin	 LKRCoin

MINING

It is called mining the data decryption action, where users focus the power of resolution (hash) of their computers to solve binary puzzles, helping to maintain the network and obtaining reward for that work.

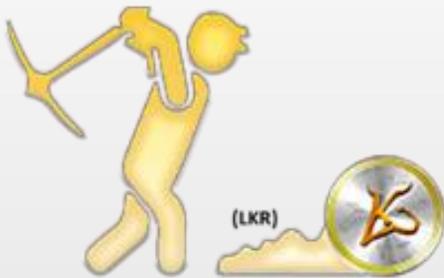

LKRcoin (LKR) uses mining methods PoW (Proof of Work) and PoS (Proof of Stake).

The PoW method is based on the processing power to decrypt a digital asset, where its success depends on the contribution of computational resolution speed (hash) contributed by the miner. For its part, the PoS method assigns a certain share value depending on the amount of assets stored that the user owns, to a greater amount of assets greater amount of reward.

Reward blocks and total supply
Block Reward	50 coins
Total supply	23.333.333
Premined	2.333.333
Percentage POS	100% yearly
Last block POW	Block 10.000
Coinbase maturity	Block 20

POW (PROOF OF WORK)

The miner uses processors and the probability of solving each block depends on the performance of the processor.

The reward is given when solving the problem in each block.

The miners compete with the power of their processors to be the first to find the solution.

POS (PROOF OF STAKE)

The user can undermine, depending on how many coins he keeps in his WALLET

NO block reward is received, the reward comes from the transaction commissions made on the network.

This mechanism is energy efficient.

LKR COIN (LKR) IT ALLOWS BOTH TYPES OF MINING

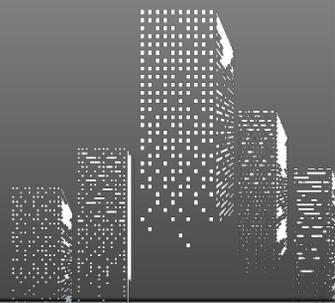

OBJECTIVES

LKRCoin (LKR) bets on the collective intellect, thus promoting the development of innovative tools based on technology. In the case of entrepreneurs offers them; Access to markets, driving new businesses, physical spaces for work, financing and academic training. In the case of ecommerce or commerce, it offers a secure and more guaranteed way of payment, all adapted to your needs.

Our vision is aimed at the global economic evolution through intensive tasks in technology and innovation and the adoption of ECommerce in an inclusive and sustainable way.
